MEMORANDUM FOR: Deputy Director of Central Intelligence FROM   :

Deputy to the DCI for the Intelligence Community

SUBJECT   : Future Role of Training in the Agency and the Intelligence Community

    1. As you may recall, Mr. Rodriguez, the former Director of Training for CIA, proposed that the Office of Training be converted into a National Intelligence Institute. His proposal further raised the possibility of expanding the Center for Studies of Intelligence and, overall, drew attention to the fact that there is no Community mechanism which addresses the various training activities of the Intelligence Community members.

    2. The Intelligence Community Staff has been exploring the curricula offered by the individual agencies of the Community to determine what, if any, programs could be shared with others. To place more emphasis Community-wide on such assessment, however, we are considering establishing a temporary Committee under the DCI to address itself to the issues surrounding national foreign intelligence training. A draft DCID setting forth the missions, functions and responsibilities is attached. Before formalizing this proposal to the National Foreign Intelligence Board, we would appreciate your reaction and comments.

NOTE FOR THE DDCI

    Before springing this on you through the NFIB, I thought it would be useful to have your comments. I talked to Jack Blake earlier about the Rodriguez letter and his recommendations, and told him that I would be sending something like this to you.

Bob —

    DDCI would like the views of the appropriate DDA people on this before replying to IC Staff.
It appears that Mr. Blake is already aware of this proposal to some extent.

Thanks
